

RSC Publishing Scandinavian Roadshow

- 1) To meet academic members of the chemistry departments
- 2) To inform department members about RSC's publishing activities
- 3) To provide useful tips to authors of scientific papers

Wednesday May 23 at 2.00 pm in Auditorium 4, HCØ, University of Copenhagen

Presentation (1 hour) by RSC Publishing staff to cover:

Introduction about the RSC
Why scientists should publish (and why with RSC)
Tips on how to publish successfully

The Publishing lecture will be followed by questions and possibly a reception, including refreshments.

There will be two RSC Publishing staff participating in the trip – Dr Jamie Humphrey and a representative from PCCP, OBC or Chemical Communications.

The lecture will be aimed at anyone who publishes in scientific journals, in particular chemistry journals, and will appeal both to new academics starting to publish and more seasoned academics.
